Technical Essay

The reasons why we are using Ethernet over other selections is because of its many advantages. Ethernet has a better speed, installation simplicity, and availability.

Speed is one thing our company will provide to make this business more efficient than the other networking companies. With Ethernet has the gigabyte, which sends information across the wires at 100 gigabits per second. At this rate much work will be done quicker than on a fiber line. Ethernet is fast enough to transfer large files across a network without waiting hours for the file to complete the transfer.

Installation Simplicity, which is a standard for Ethernet cables. Ethernet makes it easy for users to purchase the right equipment and quickly install the cabling. Ethernet network adapters can insert cables quickly into computers without any kinds of networking administration knowledge.

Availability, coax or fiber cables are difficult for average people to work with. People might accidentally break the cable.
